“TANGIBLES” is aimed at showcasing masters and emerging Sculpture artist under one roof, who have chosen sculpture as their art expression and also what inspired them to choose this language when fewer artists are opting for this medium due to various reasons. But in recent times, thanks to great infrastructure and modern day facility, the transportation of art pieces has become easier and also artists make efforts to adapt to sizes and requirements of the present day art collector and use newer and more innovative materials then ever before.

The uniqueness of the show is that all the sculptures are restricted in size and can fit an average apartment of an urban home and office. When you work from scratch there is certain chemistry between you and the material awakening all your 5 senses and Sculpture is the only language which does all this and more.
